Football Guide Is Offered

Complete Schedules, Rules, Diagrams Featured in Free Booklet

GRIDIRON fans who have been seeking a compact football guide embodying schedules, rules, past records, play diagrams and officials' signals may now obtain the new Grantland Rice booklet free of charge.

A complete schedule of games for the 1933 season in conveniently arranged so followers of football can be familiar with outstanding games when they are commented on during the Grantland Rice radio broadcasts on Friday evenings.

The book contains an article on football strategies illustrated with diagrams of famous plays; simple explanations of the new rules and their evolution since 1869 duties and signals of the game officials, and a complete record of 1932 football scores.

"In the booklet," writes Grantland Rice "I have endeavored to give football fans something for which I have long felt there was a real need. We have gathered those things which our experience makes us believe are the most helpful to the average person when watching a football game or discussing it afterward."

Consider Corn Soups

OVER a hundred years ago corn soups were as popular as they are today. A recipe comes down to us in an ancient cookbook which some how makes us want to stop whatever we're doing and make "Corn soup with drivvles." It speaks glowingly of grated fresh sweet corn bathed in rich milk broth, and tiny rivvles, which incidentally, are egg dumplings rubbed into more crumbs and cooked to perfect lightness and tenderness, so generously used that they fairly jump into one another in this creamy luscious broth.

Canned Corn is Delicious

Today we use canned corn because it really is a wonderful corn, and we can have it in the cream style or whole kernel—and either is delicious for soups. This feeder, too, is mighty fine for dinner and something to eat as a cold winter day.

Corn Chowder: Dice and fry one-fourth pound of bacon. Add one small diced onion and one diced green pepper. Continue sautéing until brown. Add four cups of diced boiled potatoes, and allow them to fry until slightly browned. Add the contents of one No. 2 can of corn, five cups milk, two and one-half teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Bring to scalding and serve This serves ten persons.

Cream of Corn and Tomato Soup: Make a White sauce of three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour and three cups milk. Stew one cup of canned corn with one and one-half cups of canned tomatoes for ten minutes, then press through a sieve and add to the white sauce. Season and serve with toasted crackers.

YOUR BRAKES MAY GRIP But Will Your Tires?

•On the slippery and darker roads of winter, you need the deep-biting, sure-holding grip of new Goodyears — and you need protection from tire changes in the cold.

You can get that protection about as cheaply as a year ago—and still have tires almost like new next Spring because new rubber lasts longer on cool roads.

Be wise — invest now in new Goodyears, ride safely, save money. This will be the 18th winter that more people rely on Goodyears than on any other tire. Let us show you why!

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

When you start getting folks to fill out applications or blanks of any sort, you get a lot of answers. Last week a man was filling out an application for work under the Civil Works office here, and when the question, "height" was put "124 feet". Finally he agreed that it might not be but "112."

Leo Smith called to mind a story of the old tavern of Captain Hix at the old court house. A group of prosperous hog owners came through driving their herd. They spent the night at the tavern. Suddenly the door of their room opened and the men were shocked to find a prancing goat butting them about! Gee, Len Smith, surely is an authority on goats. Not so long since a goat of his butted Father Darkleaf off Main Street.

The Durham Herald is a paper published in Durham. Quite On November 11, the eve of A. C. State-Duke football game, the Herald featured a large picture of Fred Crawford of Duke tackle, in the paper. Somehow, some N. C. State students got possession of the press run before it got to the postoffice and cut the picture of Crawford from each paper. The Herald found out in time but had to print the papers all over again.

From Baltimore comes a good story. It seems that a guy in Florida had a camera. He wanted to import a bunch of good, healthy monkeys for $10 each and train 'em to climb trees and pick fruits. It would cut harvesting costs to a minimum. He wanted a loan from the R. F. C. to finance the deal and claimed he knew a guy who could get the monkeys for him and train 'em and guarantee the job. One man on the board, however, kept objecting, "It can't be done, it won't work," he kept declaring. Finally the wise guy with the idea broke down with, "why won't it work?" "Well, you,,, the old fellow replied. "you wouldn't more than get started and get your monkey over here and trained good, when the blank, blank Yankees would come down here and free 'em."

Mark Twain declared that the greatest possible news story for a man to bite a dog This week Appomattox can offer one justabout as good. for two small boys near here captured a large gray fox in their naked hands.

Harold and Jack Cawthorn, 10 and 14 years of age, were roaming around in a field near here and a dog companion chased a fox. A merry adventure followed for the boys, ending in capturing the fox alive. The fox's benefit. it might be added, however, that Brer Fox had a crippled leg.

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl 9 years old and I have tried to be very good. I hope you will come to me this Christmas and if you can bring me a pair of gloves, size 7 3-4 and a little sewing machine to sew my doll clothes, and a pair bed room slippers, size 2, and some confectioneries. And don't forget the other children.

From your friend,
Mabel Christine Wilkes

Dear Santa Claus.

Are you coming to see me this Xmas? If you do, please bring me a wheel-barrow, an orange color dump truck, a book of pictures to color and anything else you can spare. I am four years old and good as gold.. Goodbye.

Work Projets For Are Being Pushed

11 Projects are Submitted

With over 800 names of unemployed already signing applications, civil works authorities at Appomattox are rushing to conclusion a number of projects for this county whereby federal grants may be obtained and work given to the people of the county through the winter months.

It is understood that some eleven projects are now in course of preparation for the county. Most of these have been completed and are now pending before the federal civil works administration.

School projects comprise one of the first groups submitted and would involve repairs, painting, heating and additions to some of the larger schools, with possible improving of grounds.

A number of road porjects have been prepared and if passed will be similiar to the R. F. C. road work done in the county last year.

New Bent Creek Road Is Now Completed

The long-desired hard-surface road from Appomattox to Bent Creek has been completed. The splendid new highway, giving new modern transportation to one of the finest sections of this county, was completed Tuesday of this week.

This road cuts off something over two miles of the distance from Appomattox to Bent Creek, and its neighboring town of Gladstone. Oakville, Bent Creek, Gladstone and even Amherst will be next door neighbors to Appomattox.

The section just completed is from Oakville to Appomattox. The half from Oakville to Bent Creek has been finished for several months.

Discuss Franchise

At the regular monthly meeting of the town council of Appomattox, held Monday night of this week, the matter of granting a water franchise was the principal business discussed.

Water has been supplied to Appomattox for many years by a private company, functioning without a franchise. The town council prepared a notice asking for bids for the water franchise, the franchise to extend twelve years. However, it is problematical whether or not the notice will be followed through and a special meeting of the council will probably be called shortly to take final action on the matter.

Court Ended Tues.

The December term of the circuit court of Appomattox adjourned Tuesday of this week, after hearing a very short docket.

The principal case originally scheduled for this term. that of the commonwealth against John Harris on indictments for attempt to commit larceny, was postponed until the April term of the circuit court, on motion of the defense attorneys, S. L. Ferguson and J. W. Flood.

Friday Gladys Cardwell was given a year and a day on indictment for malicious assault. Tuesday Ralph Magee was acquited on indictment of driving a car while intoxicated. There were only four indictments returned by the grand jury.

News Flashes

The December term of the Buckingham circuit court convenes Tuesday of next week.

Malcolm Coleman, 13. son of Joel W. Coleman, is reported recently to have killed a white deer near Hixburg. Albino deer are exceedingly rare and are seldom seen in this section. The boy was rabbit hunting at the time.

A regular district meeting of the Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association will be held at the Appomattox high school auditorium on Saturday, December 9, at 2 P. M. With the current condition of the tobacco markets, there will be plenty for the members to talk about and the presence of as sociation officials with first hand information should bring out a large attendance.

Brookneal has three tobacco warehouses this year, and is returning as a tobacco center. Two bright tobacco warehouses have been in operation during the season, offering fine prices and this week a dark tobacco warehouse was opened in the Barksdale-Foster hardware building.

John C. Caldwell, secretary of the Appomattox fair association, yesterday stated to the public that funds of the association appropriated to pay premiums was tied up in legal procedure connected with suit by the fair against certain carnival interests. However, Mr. Caldwell declares that the association is doing everything they can to get the funds released and accounts paid.

Farmers Protest Leaf Prices at Opening

Pollard Asked To Intervene

An appeal has been made to Governor John Garland Pollar to order the closing of darkfired tobacco warehouses pending possible government intervention to secure higher prices. Warehouses opened Tuesday of this week with prices averaging slightly over 7 cents per pound, a figure less than last year's opening market.

It is feared that if the markets are closed, they will not reopen until January 1.

Independent warehousemen today are outspoken in their opposition to closing of the markets. They point out that markets will close for Christmas anyway on December 19, and that if tobacco is rehung in barns, it will not be in as good condition when again offered for sale.

A meeting was held in Farmville, with representitive of 20,000 tobacco growers present. The committee included C. T. Moses, and S. E. Anderson of this county and Thomas B. Hall of Buckingham.

This group went on record as appealing to the governor to order the markets closed, as it seemed that prices were bound for a five cent level. If the markets are closed, an appeal will be pressed before the agricultural adjustment administration in Washington for parity prices such as have prevailed in the bright belt. Prices in that area have already reacted to restore a prosperous condition such as prevailed before 1929. Hewever, five cent tobacco means continued depression for growers.

The indications to this paper are that tobacco on hand in this county are going to bring good prices, because sooner or later before the season of marketing closes, the government will take a hand in the farmer's defense. Therefore. it would seem unwise to sell tobacco at this time.

Twenty-one members of our chapter attended the Hub Association rally held in Rustburg on November 25, 1933. The rally was a real success and the day was enjoyed by all who attended. Among the impressive things on the program were: A debate, "Resolved: "That each chapter should send a judging team to the state contest" grain Show," and another debate, Resolved, "That the Hub Association Should Publish a Newspaper" Miss William Daughetry, of V. P. I. Extension Division. Blacksburg, Va., made a very interesting talk on corn-judging, and he also judged the corn entered for prizes. The premium money was furnished by the Virginia Crop Improvement Association.

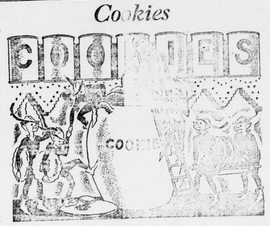
Cookies



ANYONE who has never made cookies has missed a lot of fun—rolling, cutting, sprinkling with sugar and seeing them come out of the oven golden and glistening. Anyone who has never eaten cookies—but everyone eats cookies. No one seems to know just where cookies came from, and no one knows where they go so fast, when the cooky jar is full on Saturday and empty by Monday.

Time to Bake

If you were in Germany Saturday morning, you might be baking lebkuchen or kranse; in Denmark, bursted cakes, and in Sweden, some sort of sprits cookies. Here at home, at this season, mince cookies are a favorite. Here is a recipe that is simple to make, and most savory and spicy to eat:

Spiced Mince Cookies: Cream one cup shortening and two cups brown sugar. Add two well beaten eggs. Add one-half cup sour milk alternately with the following sifted dry ingredients: four cups pastry flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon soda. Chill, roll thin and cut in small rounds. On half of them put a spoonful of cooked mincemeat and cover with the other halves. Press edges together and bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—about ten minutes.
